- Please join the Pre-AP Spanish Google Classroom: bs7dhmo
- This document helps explain what the AP course and exam entails and its various themes that we will be exploring throughout the year.

- Begin to make a habit of reading and listening to Spanish on a regular basis by reading or watching the news in Spanish, listening to podcasts, watching Spanish TV, and other practice found above.
- Brush up on your vocabulary, focusing on filling the gaps for topics that you don't typically talk about from the AP Themes & Contexts.
- In lieu of a Summer Assignment that is submitted for a grade, you may submit a reflection of what you did over the summer to maintain your Spanish skills. The reflection needs to be one page, 12 pt. font, single-spaced, written completely in Spanish, and it must include a variety of ways that you practiced the language (in other words, include specific titles of readings, films, series, apps, etc). You must also include a variety of domains of practice (listening, reading, writing, speaking, culture, etc.). If you complete this thoroughly, you will earn a cupón de prueba that you can redeem to drop the lowest two<sup>1</sup> scores of your multiple choice assessments during the semester of Fall 2020.
  - Reflection DUE: August 28, 2020. (No late reflections will be accepted.)

<sup>1</sup> Your cupón de prueba may only drop one multiple choice assessment if you don't do a thorough and complete job on the reflection.
